Scout helps with recycling program

By KIERNAN SCHALK Sentinel reporter

Tucker Sheetz has been busy this winter, prepping for the Boy Scout Klondike Derby and volunteering his free time to help launch a new recycling program.

On a chilly day in January, 14-year-old Tucker and his mother, Danielle, met up with Armagh Township Supervisor Mike Reed to discuss how the pilot recycling program is progressing.

Tucker is helping with the recycling program by designing and maintaining the sign for the disposal station located at the Armagh Township work shed behind the Uni-Mart on South Main Street in Milroy.

Tucker says he got the idea to help with the project through his mother, who works as a tax collector and knows Reed.

This isn't Tucker's first volunteer project; he has been in the Boy Scouts since first grade, when he began as a Tiger Cub.

Tucker is with Troop 106 in Milroy, part of the Juniata Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

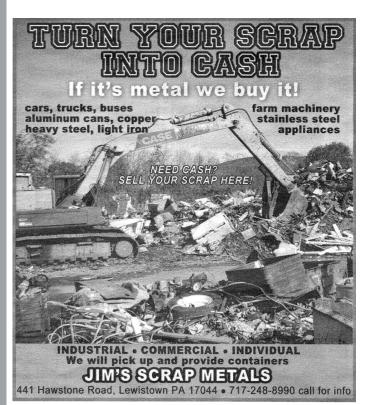

He also recently helped librarians sort out books that were being transferred to the new Mifflin County High School Library.

Tucker hopes that within the next four years he can attain Eagle Scout status, which

Continued on Page 72

Scout Tucker Sheetz, left, and Mike Reed, of Armagh Township, discuss the recycling program that Tucker has helped with signage.

Sentinel photos by BUFFIE BOYER

Tucker Sheetz, of Boy Scout Troop 106 of Milroy, shows the sign he made for the Armagh Township recycling program as part of his service work for scouts.

136 Peight Store Ln., Belleville • 717-935-2922 Open Daily 8-5; Friday 8-8; Closed Sunday

11737 Lenape Dr., Mt. Union • 814-542-9795 Open Daily 8-6; Friday 8-8; Closed Sunday

A Little Out of the Way...A Lot Less to Pay!

